MEET THE PERFORMERS

Ethan Avina, (Tuba), is a junior from Lyons, Ohio majoring in Music with a business minor. Ethan is also involved in wind ensemble, symphonic band, jazz band (trombone), Columbian Players, concert choir, intramural sports, and Alpha Lambda Delta. Ethan would like to thank Tom Lohmuller for this experience and wish everyone involved the best of luck.

Harrison Beeson (Hot Blades Harry) is a freshman from Kenosha, WI majoring in music. Harrison is also involved in concert choir, chamber singers, vocal jazz ensemble, band, the improv club, and is looking to start a fencing club here at St. Joe's next year. Harrison would like to say: 'Hey, audience! Yeah! YOU! Haha. Thank you so much for coming to our show. We've worked really hard to bring you this fine musical, and we cannot thank you enough for your support in being here. It's all for you. Mom, Dad, are you ready to see your son goes nuts on stage? Just kidding: love you guys! To everyone else, thanks again, and enjoy the show! God bless!"

Michael Booth (Piano) is Liturgical Music major. This is his second show here at SJC as musical accompanist, though he is no stranger to conducting and accompanying. Upon graduation, he will study Library and Information Science at IU Bloomington.

Tanner Brunson [Barrel] is a Freshman from West Lafayette majoring in English or History. Tanner is also involved in Vocal Jazz Ensemble, Productions Under Construction, Cup O' Joe Staff, Humans vs Zombies, Columbian Players, and Resident Superhero. Tanner would like to say "Thanks for coming out and hopefully enjoying the show. Don't cause too much trouble, or I'll have to come out and bust a few kneecaps... with laughter that is"

Sabrina Butts (Mrs Millenium) is a Senior fro South Bend, IN majoring in Psychology and English: Creative Writing. Sabrina is also involved in Cup o Joe, the Columbian Players, and Band. DIRECTOR'S NOTE

"This isn't a happy musical" Office Lockstock tells Little Sally and while there is humor and a lot of laughs in the show, at its heart it is a show with a social message. Urinetown, The Musical was written by Mark Hollman (Music and lyrics) and Greg Kotis (Lyrics and Book). The show ran on Broadway from 2001 to 2004 and won Tony Awards for Best Book and Best Score. It is the story of a town that is in the middle of a drought that has forced the Government to restrict water usage by making it illegal to have a private bathroom....the people have to pay to use public utilities. The public utilities are managed by a giant corporation, the Urine Good Company, which manages the flow of water through raising fees at the public amenities. The musical is a satire of the legal system, capitalism, social irresponsibility, populism, bureaucracy, and also parodies musicals such as The Cradle Will Rock and Les Misérables,

Like many post-modern contemporary shows, Urinetown does away with the convention of the fourth wall and allows the actors to talk directly to the audience. We decided to follow this idea of letting the audience be aware that they are at a theatrical performance by not hiding the lights, not setting a specific time frame for the show and using units to set place rather than the conventional realistic settings that many musicals and plays call for. The result, we hope, is a highly theatrical, thought provoking, yet fun evening of theatre. Enjoy the show.
